A Shoshone man was killed early Saturday in a one-car accident and a freak three-car accident on Wednesday which took the life of a Twin Falls dentist claimed second victim Saturday. Charles L. Depew, 21, route 1, Shoshone, was killed instantly in a one-car accident at 2:15 a.m. Saturday five and one-half miles east of Gooding on highway 20-26. Depew, driving a 1961 Chevrolet, apparently fell asleep and his vehicle left the highway, traveled 180 feet and smashed into a solid rock embankment. The vehicle flipped end over end before coming to rest on its top about 60 feet from the embankment. Large boulders were hurled more than 100 feet from the point where the vehicle struck the rock embankment.

Shot from Passing Car Kills Paul Man

RUPERT, July 25—Dario Martinez Holguin, 33, was shot and killed by a bullet apparently fired from a passing vehicle at 10:35 p.m. Saturday, while in his cab. Holguin, who lives at the Paul labor camp, one mile east and one-half mile south of Paul, was the only one in the cab at the time of the shooting. According to Mindoka county Sheriff Theo Johnson, the bullet passed through one cabin, struck Holguin, passed through him and lodged in another cabin. Johnson said the bullet was fired from a large rifle and there have not been any clues uncovered.

Mexicans who heard the shot went to investigate, then notified the sheriff.

Goldwater to Study Plans For Campaign

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Barry Goldwater and the man who will be top hands in the Republican bid for the presidency are studying plans for a campaign Monday to see if they can win.

On hand will be Dean Rusk, the young new chairman of the Republican national committee, and Nelson Rockefeller, the Arizona senator and campaign director, with a list of names.

One of the main tasks to be decided is the filling of a dozen top staff spots within the national committee.

This is where you take a look at what you've done and start planning it together, and also to Goldwater said of the campaign plan.

More than likely, the first look will be given to the numerous requests from state Republican chairmen and others who want Goldwater for campaign appearances.

Explosion of Greeks Is Confirmed

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 25 (AP)—The explosion of Greek nationalists from Turkey because of the Cyprus crisis was officially confirmed today by the Turkish government.

Up to now, the official Turkish stand on the explosion was that they had nothing to do with the dispute over Cyprus.

But a statement issued today said: "The privileges which Greeks have previously enjoyed in Turkey have been withdrawn because of the Greek government's hostility toward Turkey during the past six months."

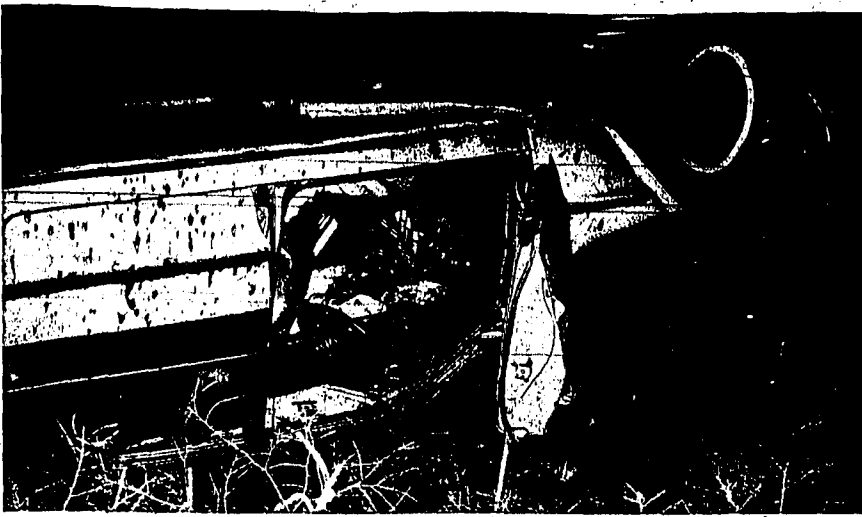

Renewed strife between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots erupted last Christmas day.

At a time when the Turkish President Cemal Gursel had called Greek Premier George Papandreu a liar as the Greeks had charged, it also termed untrue Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios' charges that Gursel said the Cypriot dispute will be settled with Turkish bombs, if necessary.

Rodeos, Races End Pioneer Day Events

A marathon race, horse race and rodeos throughout Magic Valley Saturday concluded Pioneer day celebrations honoring the trek of Mormon pioneers to the West in 1847. Large crowds were reported turning out for the events. Big "D" Riding club, Declo, took first place in the marathon race. There were only two teams entered in the race. At first, 10 were entered but "hurd luck" eliminated eight of the teams. The other one was Bryan Lanthorn, Grass Creek. It was reported the team took one hour, 10 minutes and 20.1 seconds to run the 25 miles. The Big "D" club was ahead in the race all the time.

Riders for the Big "D" were Lee Anderson, Dennis Manning, Nish Hutchison, Odell Hutchison, Robert Brackenhorn, The Grass Creek team consisted of Bruce Blanthorn, Dale Blanthorn and Bryan Blanthorn.

Winners in the horse race at Oakley were:

In the 275-yard, 2-year-olds, Polo-Winchester, owned by Mrs. Max Peterson, was first and Dada Pearl, owned by Harold Blados was second. In the second division, Miss Motuhar, owned by Harvey Wright was first, and Drowny, owned by Ed Carlson was second.

Buhl Man Is Critical After Auto Mishap

RUPERT, July 25—Clayton L. Buhl, 25, owner of a Buick Wildcat, was critical in condition after a one-car accident about 9 p.m. Friday on the Clear Lake grade four miles north of here on the south side of the river.

Emergency deputies said Keith was en route to his home at the bottom of the grade when his 1959 Chevrolet slipped the first curve down the grade.

The vehicle went off the north side of the road, tore out about 60 feet of fencing, and then rolled over, coming back partly onto the road.

Keith was thrown out of the car and landed about 45 feet from where the vehicle came to rest.

The search was about to be called off until daylight when one of the searchers found the boy hiding in a doghouse owned by a neighbor's neighbor.

It was reported that the lad had been told several times by his father not to go near the ditch and when Lonnie learned his father had found his footprints near the ditch he was afraid to go home.

Crop-Dusting Crash Injures Area Pilot

SHOSHONE, July 25—L. J. Peterson, about 40, Jerome, was killed in a satisfactory condition Saturday at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, following crash of a crop-dusting plane on the Corwin Silva farm north of Shoshone about 5 a.m.

Silva, who had been watching the plane, said it hit a post sticking up in a landing shed area which caused the plane to flip over and land upside down. The plane burst into flames with Peterson strapped upside down in the cockpit, unable to free himself. Silva pulled Peterson from the plane and he was treated by a Shoshone physician at the farm. He later was taken to the Jerome hospital.

Sheriff Thomas W. Connor said only the frame was left of the Pioneer 25 Piper plane. Authorities from the federal aeronautics agency will investigate the accident.

Alan Knopp, employee of the Northside Flying service, said the business is operating as usual.

Fire

ONTONAGON, Mich., July 25 (AP)—A forest fire crew stationed at the Porcupine mountain state park was alerted for fire fighting classes.

When the crew returned, it will have to build a new fire equipment station.

A bolt of lightning struck the station and before the resulting fire was spotted, it destroyed most of the building, a bulldozer and a stake truck.

5 Are Hurt In Accident North of Paul

RUPERT, July 25—Five Mindoka county residents were admitted to Mindoka Memorial hospital with injuries received in a car-truck accident at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Marvin Hansen, 34, was reported in poor condition; Mrs. Hansen, 36, was reported in critical condition; Douglas Hansen, 21, and Renee Hansen, 6, were reported in poor condition, and David Hansen, 8, was reported in critical condition.

According to state police, Hansen was driving a 1959 Chevrolet north on a county road 31 and one-half miles north of Paul when a two and one-half ton truck, driven by Timothy Christensen, apparently swerved to miss a chuck hole and struck them head-on.

The truck is owned by Christensen and Gravel company, Pocatello.

Tenness was moved to a Salt Lake City hospital with a broken jaw and fractured skull. Investigation is continuing.

Rochester Rioting Is Spreading

ROCHESTER, N.Y., July 25 (UPI)—Rioting Negroes fired shotguns and pistols in the air tonight and police fought back with tear gas in a new outburst of racial violence. One white man was killed during hit-and-run looting raids by marauders. Four policemen were seriously injured. One was clubbed over the head with a bottle, another was hit in the head by a thrown bottle, a third was knocked down by a hammer thrown at him and the fourth received a serious hand injury. The elderly white man killed was tentatively identified as Judson Brannan. He was hit by a hammer and knocked into the street where he was struck by a passing automobile.

One witness said he might have been trying to flag down the car.

Police said patrolmen were using tear gas to break up bands of looters.

At least 70 persons were arrested Saturday night, bringing the two-night total to more than 200.

Police said the shooting erupted in the northeast section of the city where 2,000 Negroes rioted for 10 hours earlier Saturday.

Looting spread tonight to a second Negro section and later branched out into white sections. Two other persons reportedly had been killed during the evening—one in a car accident and the other in a shooting. However, these were not related to the rioting.

Police said the elderly white man killed in the rioting was standing outside a store when a mob of Negroes looting it came out and clubbed him over the head with a lead pipe.

The man, believed to be in his 60s, stumbled into the street and was struck by a car. The driver apparently panicked when he saw the Negro mob, swerved and struck him, dragging him 100 feet down the street. The driver was not charged.

Police said there were at least three incidents of Negroes using cars for hit-and-run tactics. They skidded to a halt at intersections, hurled rocks from cars through shop windows, grabbed merchandise and sped away.

For the first time in its history, the U.S. postoffice in the middle of the rioting Negro section locked its doors at 5:15 p.m. (EDT). Until Saturday night, the building had been open 24 hours a day.

"You can get killed out here," said one patrolman in the area of violence.

The new outburst erupted shortly after officials who had shut off the liquor supply for miles around put into effect a dusk-to-dawn curfew. All shops selling guns and ammunition also had been closed.

The reports of looting and rioting came from western parts of Rochester that had been untouched by the violence that raged throughout the night before.

James Moss said he and a companion saw one of the women in the burning house and tried to rescue her. She was alive, he said, when they reached her but her clothing was afire. They tried to pull her out but she was trapped in the wreckage.

Apparently none of the neighbors saw the plane strike the house. Mrs. J. K. Martin said she heard the impact and ran outside.

Negroes sitting on their porches and leaning out windows of apartments jeered and shouted obscenities at helmeted police rushing into the new trouble spot.

The looting in western Rochester came shortly after 250 Negroes swarmed onto the streets at the scene of Friday night's rioting tossing bottles and beer cans.

Red Leader Is Arrested In Harlem

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—A communist leader was arrested by a Negro police captain today when he tried to organize his forces on a Harlem street corner and stage a rally that had been forbidden by the city's top police official.

Hundreds of Negroes watched the arrest being made and the arrested leader, fully armed, was taken to a police station. He was charged with disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly.

Conrad J. Lynn, 55, an attorney, also was arrested when he arrived at 116th street and Lenox avenue with Epton and about 25 other persons.

The defense council had planned to march on the 135th street police precinct but was banned from doing so by order of police. Saturday afternoon, the group switched their plans and said they would march instead on a junior high school at 130th street, also against police orders.

Epton, accompanied by Lynn, who has been practicing law here for 31 years, started across the Harlem street into a milling shouting crowd. Police with nightsticks quickly cleared a path through the mob and, after 15 minutes, they were placed in a patrol car.

Ex-Officers In Congo Start Riot

ELIZABETHTOWN, The Congo, July 25 (AP)—About 600 former Congolese gendarmes rioted at the provincial presidential palace today, throwing stones and attempting to overturn cars.

The 600 former gendarmes asked to be integrated into the National Congolese army (ANC). They rioted in an apparent protest because they had not been given clothing and food by the ANC.

They massed on Boulevard Elizabeth, a principal city street, and threw stones at European cars.

The rioting took place in front of the home of East Katanga provincial President Edouard Bulundwe.

Changes Not Expected Soon from High Court Ruling

By RALPH H. ALLENBROOK
NEW YORK, July 25—Don't expect the supreme court's legislative apportionment ruling to produce many changes before next year.

Only a few states appear ready to elect state legislators this fall under new apportionment systems. Most states are pointing toward 1965 as the year for doing something.

The court's historic ruling June 15 held that seats in both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis and not along geographic lines. It meant politically explosive overhaul of most legislatures. The court set no time limit for carrying out the order and it gave lower courts freedom to deal with remedial devices.

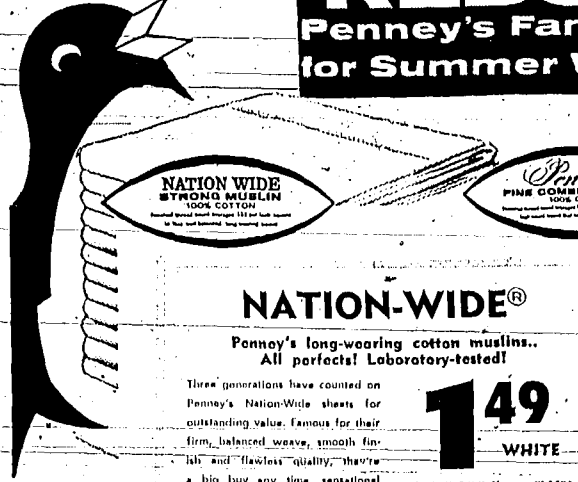

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press shows Colorado and Michigan are the only states that appear certain now of selecting legislators next November under revised population apportionment plans.

The Colorado legislature completed work July 4 on a reapportionment bill and a three-judge federal panel approved it as being within the supreme court guidelines.
 Michigan voters approved last year a new state constitution with a revised apportionment formula. The situation in New York is similar to that in a number of states. A special three-judge federal court will hear arguments later this month on whether reapportionment must be carried out in time for the November election.

Ducking Again

Idaho's legislators have a history of ducking and running when they encounter an issue that is distasteful to them or too hot to handle. They appear in the process of repeating that performance again on the matter of reapportionment of the state legislature. Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, and Rep. Pete Cenarrun, R., Blaine, and speaker of the house, have proposed a referendum vote by the people of Idaho in November. They would have the people of Idaho vote on whether the people want both houses of the Idaho legislature reapportioned on the basis of population.

The contention is that there has been no specific ruling that Idaho's system is unconstitutional. But the stand is untenable in the face of supreme court rulings on the general matter of reapportionment of state legislatures. Specifically, the high court reversed a ruling by U.S. district court in Boise disallowing a reapportionment suit.

In reversing the ruling, the U. S. supreme court said the U. S. district court should rule in accordance with high court decisions holding that both state senators and representatives should be elected on the basis of representing equal numbers of people. Even to the casual reader it is evident the U. S. supreme court hollows both senators and representatives in the state have to be elected on the basis of population, not counties or some other similar division.

So what's to be gained in asking the people of Idaho to vote in a referendum election? Certainly the citizens of Idaho cannot rule contrary to the supreme court. Regardless of whether anyone agrees, the top court's ruling stands.

It would seem the only thing that could possibly be gained through a November referendum is time—a delay in carrying out the specific instructions of the supreme court ruling.

In reporting the idea for the referendum, Murphy said it was endorsed by senators from 16 small counties after a study of supreme court decisions on reapportionment. Their statement declared that reapportionment on the basis of guidelines laid down by the supreme court would give control of the legislature to five or six heavily populated areas in Idaho.

They're exactly right and that's specifically what is intended by the supreme court decision—control of the legislature by lawmakers representing the majority of the people, not control by those who represent great expanses of area and few citizens.

There's reason to believe state senators and representatives from Idaho's sparsely settled counties are much more upset over the supreme court ruling than anyone else. But no amount of squirming is likely to take legislators off this particular hot spot. It's their specific responsibility and theirs alone. They should get down to work and devise a good, acceptable plan that will benefit the whole state.

REVIEW NEEDED

Recent recommendations by the state board of education are a step in the right direction. The board in outlining its recommendations for the 1965 session of the state legislature included suggestions for a study of school needs to provide guides for the next 15 years. It's the sort of approach to school problems that is long overdue at all levels of education.

High points in the list of recommendations were those plans dealing with state support of summer schools, steps for early recognition of potential drop-outs, expansion of vocational training and election of school trustees on a district-wide basis instead of on a zone basis.

The school trustee election system will find ready support among many school patrons. Some parents contend that trustees act as a group and represent all patrons of the schools, not just those in a particular zone. They reason that all patrons should get a chance to vote.

It's difficult enough to drum up interest in a school trustee election without limiting participation to a small part of the district. Obviously, the present system is designed to provide representation for all portions of the district, but there's a suspicion recent supreme court decisions would apply equally well to state legislatures or school districts. It's people, not districts, that should be represented.

The state board's recommendations could have gone farther and suggested complete overhaul of school laws that include some rather archaic rules and methods of procedure. One that comes readily to mind is the requirement for a two-thirds majority in a school bond election.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

By ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, July 25—Barry Goldwater may not be the only one with a view on foreign policy as the campaign progresses, but as of now they are in basic disagreement with the policies pursued by Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson.

All three of these presidents, in this nuclear age, have sought to reach an accommodation with the communist world in order to lessen the danger of a hot war. The Arizona has taken the position that "you can't do business with communists," and has ruled out any intention to accommodate.

By this, of course, Goldwater does not mean he wants to go to war with the Reds. Rather he would put a stop to such dealings as selling wheat to the Soviet Union and expanding trade relations with such nations as Russia, Poland and Yugoslavia. He takes the view that the United States should not help its avowed enemies to become stronger economically.

EUROPEAN VIEW DIFFERENT—This is the reason why most of the European press, including even Paris' right-wing Aurore, is filling its pages with expressions of dismay and fear over the Goldwater nomination. With the predictable exception of Spain and North Africa, the non-communist world looks upon increased relations with the Reds as the one sure, if slow, way of containing communism and perhaps splitting the bloc into nations with independent viewpoints.

Goldwater sees no distinction between communist countries. They are all he says, Godless conspiracies, and must eventually be destroyed. But beginning with Eisenhower, the U. S. has sought to reap advantages by doing business with some of them.

AIM OF TRADE WITH SATELLITES—The aim of this policy is clear. It is at once to both check communist subversion and build up a bloc to encourage the satellites to become more independent of Moscow. Meanwhile, all three administrations have tried to find ways to settle disputes with the Soviet Union over such issues as disarmament and the exchange of tourists and so-called cultural media such as books, magazines and ballet companies.

Some progress has been claimed. The nuclear test ban is one. Largely as a result of our aid, Yugoslavia declared its independence of Moscow. Rumania is trading extensively with the West, after rejecting the Kremlin's demands for a huge loan for the other satellites, and has even questioned Russia's postwar annexation of Bessarabia. Both Poland and Czechoslovakia are restless under the Russian heel.

RISK CLAIMS BENEFIT—It seems incredible that Goldwater should want to reverse this trend, which is weakening the Kremlin's hold on its captive nations. As Secretary of State Rusk pointed out, the policy of accommodation has proved that "the communist world is no longer a flock of sheep, blindly following one leader."

Yet, of course, Goldwater must pursue a policy that at least seems more aggressive. In framing this policy, he will find himself facing the danger that while he sticks too menacingly could start the shooting.

Views of Others

INFORMATION, PLEASE
There isn't a driver in the state who doesn't prefer a road to the Center street subway to the bone-rattling surface there prior to yesterday. A good many drivers were tried, though, when they found the subway blocked during the busiest hours of the day without proper notification.

It is not too much to expect that the state highway department would use every means available to notify the driving public whenever plans to close a main thoroughfare for repairs or other reasons are simple step, it has discharged its obligation to the public and at the same time it has avoided becoming the object of public wrath. As it was, many drivers did know the subway was to be closed, but they would guess that more than a few unkind and unprintable words were uttered during that time.

If proper notification is given and drivers ignore it or forget it, that's their hard luck. If it is not given and motorists become irate at the highway department, that's the department's hard luck.

A few words of warning that a street will be closed would be better for all concerned.—Idaho State Journal.

PROGRAMMING THE HARD

Britain's high court of justice has been asked to decide if a $18,800 bequest to the pro-Bacon in a dogged search for the "real" author of William Shakespeare's plays, is valid as a charitable trust. Will the court take judicial notice of a computer's recent rumormongering to count the frequency of so-called "filler" words, the computer decided that Shakespeare used such words as "on" eight times as often as did Bacon. The computer's assistant, said that any analysis of Shakespeare's work is a "filler" word is subconscious rather than deliberate and ruled out Bacon.

We wish this research team blown fuses and indignation. Their scheme is even more dependent than those attempts of the pro-Bacon. Each new monster with son's implacable pings. We are encouraged, however, by Shakespeare's impressive margin. Sir Francis had talent, but in our opinion he was never in the mainframe of Shakespeare's work.—Twin Falls Times-News.

A WORD FOR LOAFING

No one seems to know how to loaf anymore. The kids around the corner drag out a sunbather every day, but that's not really loafing. That's hanging around, which is another way of saying that's waiting for something to happen. Your true loafer is not waiting for something to happen. He is not interested in having something happen. Loafing is sufficient unto itself.

Not hardly anyone indulges in this pleasure these days. People are ashamed of being caught doing just absolutely nothing at all. It's not that there's a lack of leisure time; we have more of that than any previous generation. The point is that leisure time is regarded as a sort of container that must be filled with activity, preferably useful or constructive.

There's a word for loafing—just plain do. Nothing sloth without muscle and brain cell in motion. Nothing prudent and sensible can be said in favor of this revolting practice. It's not even good for you. But it's wonderful.—Grand Prairie (Alberta) Herald-Tribune.

DIOGENES, TAKE NOTE

Just how honest Richard A. O'Kane may be is for others to say, but he makes the claim, and we must believe him, that he is a "honest" man. A candidate for a place on the board of supervisors of a California county, Mr. O'Kane reportedly campaigned on a platform of "honest, straightforward and corruption."

His campaign slogan was: "Everything for everybody and a little something for me."

Furthermore, he told the voters: "A supervisor pays $8,000 a year for practically no work. Last year I paid a dollar a year for a supervisor. Mr. O'Kane's kind is a rare species.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

SAME OLD PROBLEM
Dear Sir:
It looks to me like Twin Falls is plagued by another version of the same old problem—insufficient room for parking.

But this time the problem involves parking bicycles. The other day I was downtown and walking down the street next to the new Boy Scout building (the old Idaho Tower office) and found I had to go out in the street. Bicycles, about 30 of them, literally blocked the sidewalk from building to gutter.

It strikes me that Boy Scout officials should make some arrangements for parking bicycles. If it's going to be a continuing problem, what would be wrong with barring auto parking on the whole half-block of Second street north adjacent to the Scout headquarters and installing bicycle racks? I'll bet the city fathers would go along with that idea.

Washington News

By LYLE WILSON
The line has come for Sen. Barry M. Goldwater to escape from the semantics jungle into which he apparently wandered on purpose immediately upon leaving the U. S. Capitol building. It's a Republican presidential nominee. Semantics is not what we want to hear. We want to hear the meaning of the word, the study of meaning, for example, of what is the meaning of the candidate for the word "extremism" and of the word "moderation."

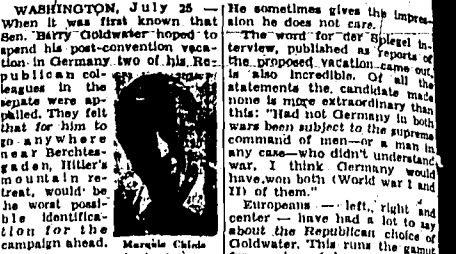

In his acceptance speech before the Republican national convention, Goldwater used those words in a passage that delighted his enemies, appalled his fair weather friends and obtained from fair weather friends and enemies a clarification or disavowal.

At any stage of a presidential campaign, the candidate of the out-party should be on the offensive and the candidate of the in-party should be on the defensive. That is the way it should be but not the way it is. Republican Goldwater is on the defensive. He must get off the defensive and onto the offensive. He must get off the defensive and onto the offensive. He must get off the defensive and onto the offensive.

Nowhere to Go but Down

When it was first known that Sen. Barry Goldwater hoped to spend his post-convention vacation in the company of two of his Republican colleagues in the Senate, the Senate was appalled. They felt that he was going to go to anywhere near Berkeley, California, to visit the mountain retreat of the late Senator William F. Buckley Jr. and the Franco press in Spain. While it is probably impossible, it would be wise if in the campaign, Goldwater could ignore these outside influences. He should stay in the mountains and not go to anywhere near Berkeley, California, to visit the mountain retreat of the late Senator William F. Buckley Jr. and the Franco press in Spain.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, July 25 — He sometimes gives the impression he does not care. The word for Dr. Spigel in the interview published as a report of the proper two of his Republican colleagues in the Senate were appalled. They felt that he was going to go to anywhere near Berkeley, California, to visit the mountain retreat of the late Senator William F. Buckley Jr. and the Franco press in Spain. While it is probably impossible, it would be wise if in the campaign, Goldwater could ignore these outside influences. He should stay in the mountains and not go to anywhere near Berkeley, California, to visit the mountain retreat of the late Senator William F. Buckley Jr. and the Franco press in Spain.

But they were reluctant to approach Goldwater. They went to the minority leader, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, to ask him if he would suggest to the man certain to be the party's nominee that this was an unhappy choice.

The only word for the episode, and particularly when it is put alongside the Spigel interview, is incredible. The New York Times reported from Bonn that earlier Goldwater had given an interview to the Soldaten Zeitung, an extreme right-wing and militantly nationalistic weekly published in Munich. In the June 26 issue the newspaper carried a banner headline in English: "Welcome, Mr. Republican."

From Goldwater's own personal view the German vacation had a perfectly reasonable motive. His good friend, Lieut. Gen. William Quinn, commander of the seventh army, had invited the Goldwaters to come over for a rest when the turmoil of San Francisco was ended. Quinn is "labeled" as exerting an important influence on Goldwater's military concepts.

Now the candidate is furious at the news media for reporting—disparaging and lying, he says—his supposed willingness to visit Germany. What angered Goldwater in the initial Columbia Broadcasting system report was the statement that he intended to address a right-wing German audience. Goldwater said this was untrue and he wanted only to relax with his friends.

Religion in America

By LOUIS CASSELL
(United Press International)
Dying is the one act to which all human beings are inexorably committed. No one could like to put it off as long as possible, and to face it with dignity and courage when it is inevitable.

A few rare souls have the grace to look upon dying as a duty, an inevitable fate which must be endured, but as a positive good. Louis Cassell, author of "The Death of Christ," wrote a good example. His death last year was "to use an old-fashioned term—"edifying" to the whole world.

But you don't have to be a pope to die well. We recently were permitted to read a letter which a lady in Meridian, Miss., wrote to a friend in Washington, D. C., in which she said: "I never meant for publication. But it describes a truly Christian death so vividly that we asked the author's permission to quote from it, and she has graciously assented."

She is talking about the death of her elderly mother-in-law. The first paragraph of the letter explains that "Mama" had a heart attack and was taken to a hospital, where she lay for the edge of life for four days. "I wish I could write well enough to describe the beginning and end of Mama's life. In the last few days of Mama's life, none of us will ever forget them."

Then he led a trump to his ace and finished the jack on the way back. This was the worst percentage play because you don't normally want four of nine of clubs, but there was method in Sidney's play.

It happened that West held the queen, so Sidney's trick was over. When the queen dropped nicely, Sidney wound up making a grand slam.

It really is unfortunate that East did not hold the queen of hearts. Now no one will ever know if East would have played the king of diamonds in the face of Sidney's eagle hand or shifted to a spade and let Sidney make the contract anyway.

Sidney knew that West was not the sort of player to lead from a king against a slam contract. So Sidney went right up with dummy's ace of trumps and dropped his queen as a false card.

Primary Clouded by Court Case

BOISE, July 25—A cloud of uncertainty produced by re-apportionment decisions of the U. S. supreme court hangs over the nomination of candidates for the 122 legislative seats in the Aug. 4 primary election.

While they may win favor, additional members from voters on Aug. 4, many of the 262 candidates could be put out of the race if a federal court accepts a motion to order immediate reapportionment and in education circles for more support of schools.

There is also a possibility that as an alternative, lawmakers in the 1963 session will operate with a weighted voting system. In the senate, the vote of the Ada county senator would carry about 93 times the weight of the vote of the man from Boise, Camas or Clark counties.

If the federal court decides to delay action until after the 1965 session, a chance to reapportion—half, the winners on Aug. 4 and in November will face the complex reapportionment problem.

It wouldn't be the only one. Demands for education and other state services will present the 1965 legislature with a problem probably greater than in 1963 of finding new sources of revenue or giving existing taxes another boost. A sales tax battle is considered certain.

There are 16 more seats in the house, at stake than two years ago, the result of the 1963 house reapportionment. Eleven counties will elect one or more additional members.

A larger than usual number of teachers and other educators are seeking seats, 20, possibly a result of stronger demands for support of schools.

Five women are seeking seats. There were none in the 1963 election.

There are 35 Republican senate candidates without primary opposition and 32 Democrats. In the same status are 30 Republican house candidates and 30 Democrats. At stake are 44 senate and 79 house seats.

Eight senators have no prospective opposition on the other side of the ballot.

Six Democrats—Fred Olson of Adams, Cecil Andrus of Clearwater, Joe Ausloh of Custer, R. M. Wetherell of Elmore, William Lee of Idaho and Arthur Murphy of Shoshone. The Republicans are Rodney Hansen, Minidoka and Don Loveland, Cassia.

With no prospective general election opposition for house seats Democrats M. L. White, Clearwater; Tony Wessels, Idaho; Marlon Davidson, Blaine; William Murphy and John V. Posilick, Shoshone, and a Republican, Jenkin Palmer, Owyhee.

Orval Hansen, Idaho Falls, 1961 house minority leader, a Republican, and Charles E. Emmett, a Democrat, the 1961 majority leader, are both seeking a return to the house. Higer has no primary opposition.

Hansen played out to run for congress and Higer to run for governor in 1962.

Democrats are hopeful of winning control of the senate where Republicans held only a 23-21 edge. But Republicans feel fairly confident of retaining control of the house, where they had a 34-20 margin.

Democrats are particularly hopeful of picking up a senate seat in Kootenai county, where Republican Bill McDonald is opposed by former Rep. William Webster, and in Blaine county, where three Democrats are seeking the nomination to oppose Republican Perry Butcher.

Ben. Walt Prather, R. Bounding, did not seek reelection. There are no candidates from either party for that seat, but only one no one is seeking. But there may be write in nomination and either party the primary.

Sen. Hal Wallington, R. Blaine, retired, but Republicans hope that Mrs. Mary T. Brooks, widow of the late U. S. Sen. C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois, can retain that seat for the GOP.

Elmore, Cassia, Kootenai, Nez Perce, Twin Falls, Blaine and

Half Year Is Success for Gas Company

BOISE, July 25—In the Intermountain Gas company interim report now in the mail, President Ralph Gibson reveals to shareholders that June 30 marked the year in the young company's history.

In the first six months of 1964, revenues are up by $1,850,000—$8,170,000 compared with $6,320,000 for the like period in 1963. This is an increase of 29 percent, or greater than that recorded for the full year 1963. Earnings per share are $1.00 compared with 15 percent for the first six months of 1963. This is an increase of 48 percent.

Customers connected as of June 30 totaled nearly 45,000. Gibson commented, "Not long ago there were none." Gibson further told shareholders of the country's newest natural gas utility, "Management confidently expects that earnings for the full year of 1964 will exceed the earnings reported at the end of the half year period. It can well be assumed that June 30, 1964, marked the beginning of a succession of new earnings for Intermountain Gas company."

He said 1964 will be the biggest construction year for the company since the initial laterals and grid systems were built in 1958 and 1957. Approximately six million dollars will be invested in new gas distribution mains and services this year.

Elmore GOP Is Write-in Candidate

GLENN PERRY, July 25—Stanley Jones, Elmore county Republican chairman, yesterday announced his write-in candidacy for state senator.

He decided to enter the race to champion the cause of the smaller counties against the tendency of the federal government through reapportionment to strip the smaller counties of their constitutional rights of representation, he said. This tendency will result in transferring the voting power primarily to the industrialized cities and will in time deprive agricultural areas of adequate representation as was the intent of the state constitution, Jones adds.

Jones is the author of "GOP News and Views," appearing in the Mountain Home News and the Glenn Perry Gazette. He recently returned from the San Francisco Republican convention where he served as an alternate delegate.

The candidate was born in Fairfield and since 1940 has been in the livestock business in the Elmore area.

Glenn Perry, Jones was graduated from Fairfield high school and attended the College of Idaho, Caldwell. He married the former Maxine Miller of Castleford and they have four children.

She Asserts "Socialized Medicine" Not Exactly New

Editor, Times-News:
In answer to Dr. Harold Holsinger's recent letter questioning the need for a mental health clinic, I should like to point out that the state hospitals of Idaho have been dispensing this kind of "socialized medicine" for many years and still do so; since the only obligatory payment for patients is for room and board, for those who are not indigent, in return for all treatment, patients are asked to pay only "what they can afford."
If it is getting psychiatric treatment were available here, many patients could go on earning money or caring for their homes while being treated; therefore more of the burden would be paid by something. Also, while patients in our state hospitals are treated for their physical ailments by a staff physician

Writer Tells Why Mental Health Center Is Needed

Editor, Times-News:
In answer to Dr. Holsinger's letter, I would like to say that we need a mental health center because, in self defense, we are faced to take ourselves to support jails, reform schools and insane asylums.
It makes sense to tackle the problem at the beginning, instead of just locking up the victims of mental illness after they become dangerous to the public. Most of them could have been cured if treated soon enough.
True, we can't cure everyone and inevitably some will be treated who would not have become public charges without treatment, but even so, we will reduce the cost to the public of maintaining institutions by reducing the number of inmates in them, as

Reader Questions' Closure Of Pool Parlor on Sunday

Editor, Times-News:
I would like to see a question answered—why is it supposedly illegal to open a pool parlor for the entertainment of all ages on Sunday?
The Slide Pocket is kept closed on Sunday because of other businesses open. Why, out of all businesses open for family entertainment, should this be the only one not allowed to open?
The Slide Pocket recreation center serves soft drinks, ice cream and candy and furnishes an opportunity to keep young people off the street and out of trouble. If this establishment is not allowed to open on Sunday, I say close the movies, bowling alleys, swimming pools and all other family recreation spots. If pool parlors with pool tables are allowed to be open, maybe that is because they serve beer instead of soft drinks.
I like to shoot pool, my wife and son and daughter like to indulge in this game of skill and concentration. It is a highly respectable game and very entertaining.
I have nothing at all to do with the operation of the Slide Pocket recreation center. I asked the owner why it was not open and he informed me that it was illegal.
I want some answers.
If this discrimination continues against only one business, I am sure it will be illegal.

Filer Woman Raps Statement By Goldwater

Editor, Times-News:
I am as a rule silent and have been meaning to keep silent as to political races as I have no party affiliation, but I can no longer keep silent after reading the front page statement of Barry Goldwater as follows: "... should have discussed the falling of the Johnson administration and not whether Goldwater wanted to drop a nuclear bomb."
Am I to understand that we as a nation are to be critical of an administration that didn't even have a chance to organize itself and was literally and realistically thrown into its job rather than to question the character and integrity of a would-be leader we are trying to choose?
Americans take note: We must be sure before we leap. I am not criticizing Barry Goldwater, as he must be a fine man, but listen, Americans, and think well before choosing. Others may say something even worse and worse yet, they might actually mean it.

Informal "Supper Clubs" Are Increasing In Popularity in Magic Valley Area

By NOIMA HERZINGER

Cook-out, anyone? Cooking out-of-doors is high style these days and in our community, as in others, "Supper clubs" are the latest in modern day social outings.

Mom and pop need a night out occasionally and this is one good way to spend it. Seems as though six or eight couples join together and form a "Supper club" usually meeting once each month for a get-together ranging from potlucks to dinner parties.

Summertime has been aptly called "steak and salad" time—as was the case of this Supper club as it convened at the picnic area at lovely Twin falls park for a steak fry.

Delights of a cook-out, to me, are the heavenly aroma of the meat cooking over the charcoal, the lovely scenery and the pleasant company of friends, talking over the day's latest events. In fact, on most cook-outs, the steaks taste so good one really doesn't mind all the mosquitoes, gnats and bugs that sometimes plague out-of-doors parties.

I understand, however, if yellow lights are available the little bothersome insects aren't quite so noticeable.

The imaginative summer cook-out menu can be relatively simple—yet so good. The main course doesn't always have to be steak. Hot dogs are one of America's favorites, among young and old alike. In fact, I read somewhere that, "This is one of the hot dog-eatin'-est countries in the world."

Kabobs are a fun meal for the world of out-of-doors cookery. Meats on a skewer offer wonderful possibilities for different meats, as well as fruits and vegetables. They offer a chance at creating just the meal you like.

The important point to remember when cooking over charcoal is never to place food on the grill while the charcoal is flaming. Let the coals burn down to a glow or until covered with a gray or white ash to give moderate temperature. This usually takes from 20 to 35 minutes.

In the immediate Twin Falls area we are quite fortunate in having several very nice places in which to have a cook-out, including Twin falls, Shoshone falls, Harmon park, South park and Harry Barry park.

Many Supper clubs have been organized in Twin Falls and are becoming more and more popular with the young married set. Members of this particular Supper club are Mr. and Mrs. Max Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Parrish and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Strong.

Furniture Talk MORE LIGHT

By Russ Cunningham

on the matter of choosing lamps for your home... Have you noticed how warm and inviting a home looks when you drive by at night and look at the glowing windows? That is one of the purposes of proper lighting... and this charm should carry into the home and stand up under close inspection.

Proportion is one of the secrets of charm in a lamp. Be sure that the lamp and shade are in proportion. A large lamp with a too-small shade looks something like the clown wearing a tiny hat. And a too-large shade will make a lamp look "crushed" by the weight of the shade. Match the lamp to the table it stands on, too. A lightweight, fragile-looking table may be in fact physically strong enough to carry a very tall or heavy lamp, but the combination will look all wrong. Tall lamps look best on low, sturdy tables.

As to styling, your taste must be your guide. If in doubt, rely on the classic shapes—the urn or pottery vase, with white the safest color for the shade. Stop in and look over our stunning lamp selection... and we'll be glad to help you select styles appropriate to your decor.

Betty Rehwalt, Jones Exchange Wedding Vows

EDEN, July 25 — Betty Jo Rehwalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rehwalt, Eden, and Henry Calvin Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Eden, exchanged wedding vows June 21 at the Eden Trinity Lutheran church.

The Rev. Richard A. Tschirley performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of lighted Candelabra trimmed with ivy and holly and basket arrangements of white peonies and white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white rayon organza with a princess panel front. The gown was styled with a scooped neckline and long, pointed sleeves accented with simulated pearls and iridescent embroidery. The full skirt featured a chapel-length train accented with a bow at the waistline.

Her elbow-length bouffant illusion veil was held by a train of lace leaves trimmed with seed pearls and aquinas.

She carried a cascade bouquet of roses centered with two white cattleya orchids enhanced with leaves and net.

Her tokens of sentiment included a small white pillow, a gift from her parents; a blue garter, and a penny in her shoe. Nancy Rehwalt, sister of the bride, and Billy Rehwalt, brother of the bride, were candlelighters.

Soloist was Mrs. Irving McDonald, accompanied by Mrs. Elmer Hagerman, who played the traditional wedding music.

The table was centered with a four-tiered blue and white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Daisies and ivy circled the cake and corners of the table. Two flower arrangements of daisies and roses, a crystal punch bowl and silver coffee service, completed the table appointments.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Raymond Meyerhoff and served by Mrs. Herman Martens and Mrs. Rudolph Martens, all aunts of the bridegroom. Mrs. Robert D. Knight served punch and Mrs. Eugene L. Knight poured coffee, both aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Donald McFarland, sister of the bridegroom, attended the guest book. Gifts were arranged by Mrs. E. L. L. Jones, Mrs. Charles Burk, Jr., Mrs. Larry Davidson, Janice Meyerhoff and Donna Martens, cousins of the bridegroom.

Strickland Hits, Hurls Thiefs to Pioneer Loop Victory Over Cowboys

POCATELLO, July 25 (AP)—Lefty Jim Strickland pitched and batted the Pocatello 4-2 Pioneer league victory over the Magic Valley Cowboys tonight.

Cowboys Rise From Team Batting Cellar

Not only have the Cowboys moved up the Pioneer league ladder, they have also improved their team batting average. They had the year with a lowly .169 per cent average in the past but have now raised it to .236 and moved out of the team batting cellar, according to Pioneer league statistics released by William J. Weiss.

The team fielding, however, has dropped five percentage points since last year, but the Magic Valley club is still on top of the list at least one game.

Strickland took over the individual batting lead for the club with a .400 average while Bob Schroeder, who led the list for four weeks, dropped 20 percentage points and four out of five has a .300.

After pitcher Ken Henderson, at .375, Ramon Aldecoa, .355, and pitcher Tommie Smith, .321. The Cowboys started out with only one hit in their first game, but now have moved up to two last after the game.

There are now five above the mark. They now have 13 hits in the first game, but in the five of last week and the one after that, they had only one hit in each game.

Strickland added four hits, but in the five of last week and the one after that, they had only one hit in each game.

ON HIS WAY TO "pressing" 330 pounds, Jerry Engelbert, Jerome, reaches the half way mark and requires one more motion to force the weight over his head to complete the feat. Engelbert has pressed as much as 330 pounds during a training session. At the present time he is trying to raise enough money to attend the Olympic trials Aug. 21-22 at the New York World's fair. # Jerome Weight Lifter Comes Within Reach of Olympic Goal

Nine years of constant physical training and a sincere interest in human strength has brought 28-year-old Jerry Engelbert, Jerome, within reach of a life-long goal—the Olympics. Engelbert, who is not married, is presently waiting for his AAU card from Salt Lake City.

When he receives it he will place the number of the card on his application for the Olympic trials Aug. 21-22 at the New York World's fair.

He plans to fly to York, Penn., about 10 days before the trials to work out with other weight lifters preparing for the trials. "I would drive, but it takes too much out of a guy," Engelbert stated.

Engelbert is presently trying to raise about $350 to pay his way to the trials. If he can raise the money and lift his way through the trials he may be on his way to competition in the Olympic trials.

Two Remain Tied For Third Round Of ICO Tourney

HARTFORD, Conn., July 25 (AP)—U.S. open champion, Ken Venturi, and Al Bessellik shot identical 69s today to remain in a tie after 54 holes in the $50,000 Insurance City open golf tournament. Their third-round total of 202 was 11 under par at the Wetherfield Country club par 35-36-71 layout and set the stage for what could be a dramatic climax Sunday.

The 33-year-old Venturi, who put together rounds of 70-69-69, the 40-year-old Bessellik has 69-70-69 rounds.

Changing the leader were Sam Corns and Bert Vancay with 70-69.

Bessellik, back on the pro tour after a three-year absence because of illness, fought it out with Venturi under partially cloudy skies over the 6,500-yard course. A crowd of about 14,000 watched.

Venturi collected three birdies and one bogey in his 34-35 round and took 20 strokes. Bessellik picked up four birdies and two bogeys in his round.

Vancay suffered from putting trouble at crucial moments, especially at the 17th hole where he missed a five-footer for a bogey.

"I played my best round today," said Bessellik, who has promised the press a case of wine if he wins on Sunday. Tony Lenis started the custom by buying champagne after all his victories.

Bessellik said he found it "tough to put because of the spike marks." He requested the 15th hole from 10 feet because I wanted to give it a charge," he said. "I hit 10 greens and I think that's pretty good golf."

One of Venturi's most exciting shots came on the par for 371 yard seventh hole where he clipped in for a birdie from 40 feet with his pitching wedge.

When someone asked him how he felt about the tie, Venturi said: "Some always seemed to be bounding on my door last night. I always thought this was a quiet little town but this morning they were all here, the hotel, the fire alarm, fire engines and police cars."

"They all insurance here," said a newsmen.

"I need it," said Venturi. "Two players were disqualified because they signed the wrong scores. They were Pete Cooper, who posted a 212, and Dee Ream."

Bob Baxter turned in the best third-round card—a 63, which is only three strokes above the tournament course record of 60 registered by Tommy Bolt 10 years ago.

Other scores included 69s by Bobby Nichols, the PGA champion, Sam Snead and Billy Casper, the 1953 PGA winner. Jim Barnes totaled a 211.

Adair Leads Orioles Over Senators 5-4

BALTIMORE, July 25 (AP)—Jerry Adair's run-scoring single capped a four-run rally in the eighth inning that vaulted Baltimore to a 5-4 victory over Washington tonight.

Adair's single, the key single in the upturn, driving in two runs with two out and the bases loaded. His hit came off Roger Miller, who had just pitched the Orioles' last out.

Following Robinson's hit, Charley Lau batted out a slow roller along the first base line sending Brooks Robinson home with the tying run. Then came Adair's winning single to left field.

Washington's last out was a double by Brooks Robinson.

Cards Stop Phillie Rally for 10-9 Win

PHILADELPHIA, July 25 (AP)—Mike Cuellar's relief pitching and a key double play snuffed out a ninth-inning rally after seven runs had scored, and St. Louis escaped with a 10-9 victory today. The fantastic rally almost nullified the hitting of the Cardinals' Ken Boyer, who clouted two homers, including his second grand slam of the season.

Curt Simmons, a former Phillie, went into the ninth with a 10-8 lead. But Philadelphia's bases on a single by Gus Triandos and homers by Wally Pate and pinch hitter Wes Covington. Cookie Rojas and Johnny Callahan each singled in a run and Glen Hobbie replaced Triandos with the bases still loaded.

Hobbie walked pinch hitter Tony Gonzalez for another run, and he left for Bob Taylor with a 10-9 count on Richie Allen. Taylor completed the walk to Allen and then a two-run single to Glen Hobbie replaced Triandos with the bases still loaded.

Angels Drop A's 18-2 on 19-Hit Attack

KANSAS CITY, July 25 (AP)—Willie Smith lashed five hits and drove in three runs and Bob Perry knocked in four as the Los Angeles Angels unleashed a 19-hit attack and annihilated Kansas City 18-2 today.

Joe Jackson and Bobby Knepp also batted in three runs apiece in support of Bo Hall's five-run pitching.

Smith singled and scored in the first inning, tripled in the second, singled in the fourth, singled in the fifth, and scored in the sixth and eighth.

He hit out in his other time at bat in the seventh.

He states that he has come a long way in progressing with weight lifting and it would be a great honor to compete both in the trials and the games.

In high school Engelbert played baseball but never competed in track or field events because the two sports conflicted. After high school his interest in strength led him to weight lifting.

During training sessions he will sometimes lift weights as if in Olympic competition.

For instance, he will start by pressing 135 pounds to warm up. Then he will progress to pressing heavier weights. He has been known to press as much as 330 pounds.

In lifting terms the "press" means to bring the weight to the chest and then lift it over the head by squatting or splitting and then forcing it over the head and standing up.

Engelbert can "snatch" 300 pounds and the world's record is a little over that mark.

The "clean and jerk" is the third in the series. This is defined by lifters, means to pull the weight to the chest and use a leg drive to put it over the head.

Engelbert has been known to put 380 pounds over his head in the three events.

In competition each lifter gets three tries for more weight in each of the series. The best weight of the three in each event determines the total score.

The national champion has totaled 1,040 pounds in these events with the next best man lifting a total of 980 pounds.

During each session Engelbert goes for more weight, and more often than not he succeeds. To date he has 1,010 pounds in the three events.

By watching Engelbert one can't help but admire the man. He looks at the weight to be lifted then places rain on the bar so they will not slip on the bar.

Redlegs Fall To 3-Run Pirate Rally

CINCINNATI, July 25 (AP)—Bill Mazeroski homered and limited a three-run rally with a single as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 6-3 today.

Mazeroski's homer, off Joe Nuxhall in the second, tied the game 1-1. The Reds scored on Vada Pinson's homer in the first.

Mazeroski led off the fourth with a single, went to second when Nuxhall balked and scored on pitcher Vernon Law's single. Batley then doubled in Law and came home on Bill Virdon's second of three singles.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By BOB MAGEE

If the Maple Valley Cowboys progress in their batting averages as well as they have over the past three weeks they may soon take over the Pioneer league lead from the Treasure Valley Cubs.

That is, of course, if the Cubs don't keep up their present pace. There is really no way of telling who might come out on top in the Pioneer league race but the league statistics show that both teams have improved greatly since the rookie league was implemented in Idaho.

So far the batting has been the main holdback for the Cowboys, but the team average has improved some 100 percentage points since the first league statistics were released July 5. Bob Schroeder has helped much to carry the team in the batting department—and was the only player over .300 the first two weeks. The third week he was joined by Mickey Takahashi and now is accompanied by four others, one batting over .400.

Jim Fisher is the new leader with a whopping .402 average which has helped the Cowboys out of the team batting cellar and into third place, not far behind the Cubs. Fisher rose from .291 to his present status in only one week.

But that still doesn't put the rookie Giants on top. Even with their batting improvement, the Cubs still lack the pitching staff that is needed for a front-running team.

Andy Erickson and Tom Jones have the lowest earned-run average and have the most wins to their credit and are the only members of the club in the top ten batting list, who has pitched only one inning and holds a 0.00 ERA. Jones has a 3-0 record and a beautiful 0.00 ERA to top Erickson's 4-1 and 2.03, but there are two Treasure Valley players who also have perfect records and lower ERAs.

All in all, it's a big if for the Maple Valley rookie squad, but they seem to be living up to their parent club's high standards and are working hard to make the grade for all the sports fans of Idaho.

With a little more support from the people, maybe the Cowboys will see their name on the top rung of the Pioneer league ladder.

Bressoud-Led Red Sox Nip Indians 4-3

CLEVELAND, July 25 (AP)—Ed Bressoud slammed a homer in the ninth inning, giving Boston a 4-3 victory over Cleveland today.

Bressoud connected off reliever Don McMahon with two out. The Indians took the lead in the first inning on Leon Wagner's solo homer, but Stuart's second-inning homer off southpaw Jack Kralick tied the score. Carl Yastrzemski's double scored Tony Conigliaro, who had reached first on Larry Brown's error. Yastrzemski was tagged out after he rounded second, so the bases were empty when Bressoud's "rip" scored the winning run, this time off Sonny Siebert.

The Indians tied it again in the seventh when Howser singled, stole second and scored on Vic Davallio's single.

School for Women Balks At Changes

ROCK HILLS, S. C., July 25.—Winthrop college, South Carolina's state-supported college for women, may be considered a luxury in this age of mass higher education.

Winthrop President Charles Davis strongly disagrees but admits, "I don't know how long we can keep it this way; how long the taxpayers will stand for it."

Dr. Davis firmly believes that it is wrong to educate women as men are.

Davis took over at Winthrop in 1960. He had been quoted as saying, "In my judgment, nothing could be more frustrating than for a woman to find that she had spent four years in college learning how to be a successful man and then have to spend the rest of her life trying to learn by herself how to be a successful woman."

Winthrop, a liberal arts college, has teacher preparation and home economics as its main departments.

It is generally agreed that mounting enrollments and pressure from parents of prospective male students in the Rock Hill area may prompt some modification of Winthrop's admission policy.

Some male students already attend evening classes and summer sessions, taking liberal arts courses. They are not eligible to receive degrees.

Winthrop trustees voted in 1962 to grant degrees to male students who satisfy requirements through only summer and evening classes. A change in state law is necessary to put the proposal in practice.

"We have no problems getting women students," said Walter D. Smith, dean of the college. Winthrop expects an enrollment of 2,410 this fall, an increase of about 300 over last year.

Dr. Smith said the college is operating near capacity but that if necessary its classroom facilities could absorb another 1,000 students providing additional faculty members are hired.

South Carolina, one of eight states supporting a women's college, also has all-male The Citadel. The University of South Carolina and Clemson college are coeducational.

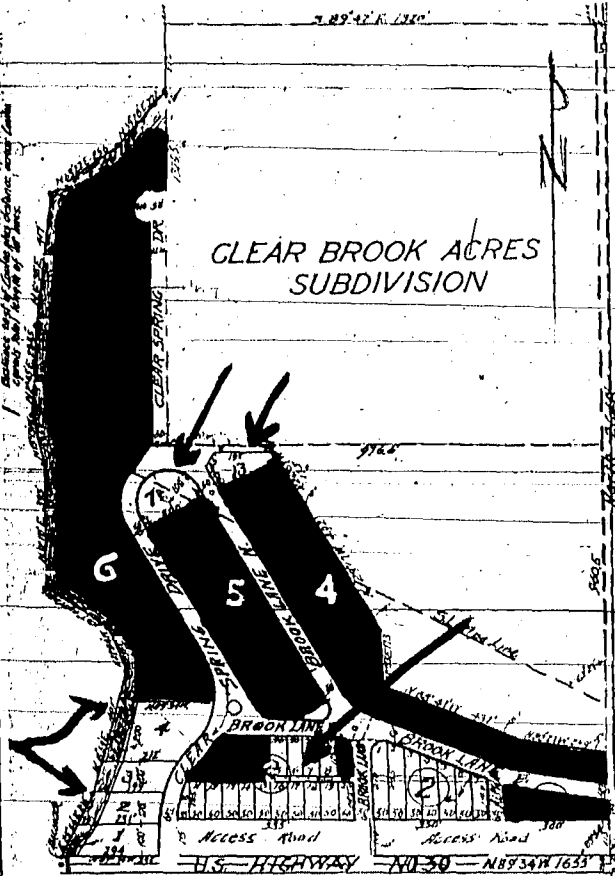

The building now under construction will have one large multi-purpose room, three meeting rooms, central lounge, nursery and kitchen. One of the outstanding features of the building will be the small chapel for meditation purposes as specified in the will of Mrs. White.

The new building will have ample parking space and room for expansion. Much of the success of the building is because many groups and individuals gave small donations or contributions. These smaller amounts have totaled to the point that the Y, when it opens its doors, will be fully serviceable.

Private Donations Aid Construction Of New Twin Falls YW-YMCA Building

fessional Women's club. The "Y" was purchased a set of silverware and Ida Gem Dairy purchased a movie projector and screen, just to mention a few of the donations.

And of course there were cash donations like the one Young's Dairy gave in the amount of $500.

"Response from the community on the heels of a drive to raise a half of a million dollars for an auditorium certainly speaks well of the area," said Conner.

Construction of the building is pretty much on schedule. The picture is improved to the point that persons connected with the project are discussing future improvements. Several questions have been raised concerning future additions to the building and to the Y program. According to Conner the construction of the building has been the main and only thought of those connected with the project, and "we are just beginning to evaluate our program and situation." "We are now at the point where we can begin to think beyond the project to erect the building," said Conner.

The building now under construction will have one large multi-purpose room, three meeting rooms, central lounge, nursery and kitchen. One of the outstanding features of the building will be the small chapel for meditation purposes as specified in the will of Mrs. White.

The new building will have ample parking space and room for expansion. Much of the success of the building is because many groups and individuals gave small donations or contributions. These smaller amounts have totaled to the point that the Y, when it opens its doors, will be fully serviceable.

WRITING OUT CHECK for $500 is Uriel Simmons in behalf of Young's Dairy for a cash donation for their new YW-YMCA building which is being constructed on Elizabeth boulevard. The picture is typical of community response to the project, said Richard Conner, Y secretary. (Times-News photo.)

Anchorage, Despite Quake, Is Still Home to Former Twin Falls Resident

From Anchorage to Twin Falls is a little more than 3,500 miles and for this reason Mr. and Mrs. Murray North don't get an opportunity to visit here too often. North is a faculty member of Alaska Methodist University at Anchorage where he teaches music.

Things just seemed to work out this summer for a short visit to Twin Falls to see his mother, Mrs. Rose North, 204 Seventh avenue north, and arrive in time for the 1944 class reunion.

North had to attend a special school for music conductors which was held at Monterey, Calif., earlier this year.

The trip to Twin Falls, the reunion and the school fit together to make the stay in Twin Falls possible.

North is quite enthusiastic about Anchorage, its future and its possibilities. Despite the recent earthquake Anchorage will continue to be his home for some time.

The people in Alaska are a hardy bunch and right now the important thing is to rebuild. The North home wasn't damaged in the earthquake. However, there was damage in the vicinity. "Oh, some people packed up and left, but the feeling is that if that's the stuff they're made of, then good-bye," said North.

North is quite optimistic about the future of the 49th state. He said that it is definitely a land of opportunity like his own profession—music and education.

Alaska Methodist University is the second four-year school in Alaska. There are three buildings on the campus and three more are under construction. On the day Alaska was admitted to the Union ground was broken for the campus which is 500 acres in scope.

Getting in on the ground floor North believes is important. Higher education in Alaska is needed and is now in the process of being provided.

When the ground was broken for the university it was carved out of an area that was almost isolated and completely surrounded by timber. Now the city has grown out to the campus and several buildings such as hospitals and professional buildings have been constructed near the campus. In a way it has become a social and cultural center.

Alaska is not the land of ice and snow, North pointed out. Anchorage has a fine civic symphony made up of university people, townspeople and military personnel. North serves as conductor for the group. Anchorage boasts of many artists and writers such as Lowell Thomas, Jr. The city has a civic auditorium which seats 2,200 people.

Anchorage is more metropolitan than many towns in Idaho, claims North.

Alaska was introduced to North by his sister who was teaching in Anchorage. She enticed him to teach one year in Alaska.

North had received a degree at Northwestern University and was studying music at Chicago Music College when he accepted the opportunity to go north. He later returned to Eastman Music School, Rochester, N. Y., to finish his musical education.

While studying at Eastman he met his wife, Michi. She was a graduate of the Juillard school of music in New York City. They were married at Rochester in tempting to block the commission's order.

The fact is that soon after the commissioners made public their intention, the house district committee summoned them to a closed-door hearing. In that and a subsequent meeting the committee failed to convince the commissioners they should change their minds. But it did get the commissioners to hold up their new order, which would transfer ticket fixing authority to the city's corporation counsel.

The committee insists that every city has a system whereby "tickets" incorrectly issued can be canceled and that the police have operated Washington's system fairly.

The committee also claims that its primary interest is on behalf of congressmen but on behalf of tourists who unwittingly violate district traffic regulations.

For years the house and senate district committees have had reputation as places where one with connections—such as the staff, friends and relatives of congressmen—could arrange to have tickets "adjusted." Since Morse began his anti-ticket-fixing campaign the senate committee has refrained from the practice. But there is one report that senators have now begun to send tickets over to the house district committee.

"Under the new salary bill, congressmen will be paid $30,000 a year and their staffs up to $24,500," the Post said recently in an editorial. "At those wages, they can't afford to fix their tickets like the rest of us."

ATTEND SESSION

CAREY, July 25—Mr. and Mrs. Larry Peterson attended a state Farm Bureau meeting in Pocatello this week. They are chairman and vice chairman for the state with special responsibility for Blaine, Camar, Cassia, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka and Twin Falls counties.

1953. He indicated her to return to Anchorage.

Mrs. North has acquired considerable fame as a concert pianist in Canada, Alaska and the Orient. In Anchorage she instructs privately.

In fact, the Norths had their own music school before he joined the faculty of Alaska Methodist University.

One has to adjust to Alaska. The country is overwhelming. It is much like Idaho only more so, says North.

Yes, Water Runs Down Hill

The spokesmen for government ownership of the electric business—for bringing Bonneville power to southern Idaho—are repeating a strange refrain:

It goes something like this: Snake river water originates in Idaho and turns downstream turbines to produce cheap power; therefore Idaho should get the benefit. Sounds plausible, if you don't look closely.

But the argument is faulty and grossly misleading.

In the first place, the downstream power—Bonneville power, that is—is not cheap. It's subsidized by taxpayers to the tune of multiple millions of dollars, and it's sold below cost. It's a government hand-out to a few preferred customers paid for out of your taxpaying pocket.

Eliminate the subsidy and remove Bonneville's total tax avoidance—this power actually costs more than you pay to a taxpaying company like ours. Where is the bargain?

Idaho water is being used again and again from headwaters to Hells Canyon to give you the benefits of cheaper taxpaying electricity.

Bonneville can't give you anything it doesn't take away through the back door of tax levies.

Johnson to Dedicate News School

SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 25 (AP)—The first section of a 15-million dollar communication center, heralded as the "world's largest and most advanced," will be dedicated here Aug. 5 by President Johnson.

The President also will be awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws at a new five-story school of journalism building on the Syracuse university campus. The building, a precast concrete structure of cruciform design, is the first of a three-building communications complex to be created on an eight-acre site. The entire 15-million dollar cost will be paid by Samuel I. Newhouse, publisher, broadcaster, personally and through the Newhouse Foundation.

men operating the trap, which had nylon netting slides supported by a light pole placed six feet apart, said that the male goats were not coming in with the females when the trap was set. These men were biologist Roy Rogers, County of Albany; Les Gibson, banding conservation officer; and Jack McKel, Coeur d'Alene conservation officer. Dausky, the man at the Lookout, said several billy goats were using a narrow path up the rocky mountain every day. ## MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT . . . Buhl Mayor Started Political Life As White House Guard in Capital

Buhl, July 25—From the White House in Washington to a quiet life as the mayor of Buhl is quite a trip for any politician. However, politics didn't have anything to do with the decision of Reed Maughan to settle in Magic Valley. In fact, Maughan was fed up with politics and the political scene.

REED P. MAUGHAN

If the truth were known, Maughan probably got closer to the White House than many professional politicians. Maughan was a member of the White House police during 1941 and 1942 and was one of several men in the United States charged with the responsibility of protecting the President of the United States. But this was Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Maughan recalls during the annual White House Christmas party his oldest child refused to shake the President's hand. The bashful child brought a grin to FDR's face. Mrs. Roosevelt, however, was able to win the child's affection and gave her a Christmas present.

Reed P. Maughan was born Jan. 15, 1912, at Wellsville, Utah, a small community near Logan. His early education consisted of schooling in Cache valley.

In 1931 Maughan was called to serve a mission for the LDS church in Germany and Switzerland. In returning these days Maughan points out that he was in Germany working in behalf of Christianity at a time when a man named Adolf Hitler was rising to power.

For two years Maughan observed individual liberty as it was stripped from the people. He vowed then that individual freedom was one of the most sacred possessions and he would do what he could to preserve it.

After arriving back in Wellsville, Maughan found himself like many others facing the fall end of the depression. He decided to try for Washington and enter foreign service using his knowledge of German and Swiss languages.

He departed from Ogden on a freight train with a load of horses. After some time in the capital he decided that foreign service assignments were for others with more political influence. He accepted instead a spot on a clerical staff.

Before long he was appointed to the district metropolitan police force. He worked for the force for five years. Maughan recalls race troubles and riots in those days and can tell you about those difficulties.

In time he was assigned to the White House detail. During World War II the White House was a pretty hard place to gain entrance and it was the duty of the detail to keep it that way.

After he returned to duty on the regular force the political influence and atmosphere which affected many of the police caused Maughan to believe that the nation's capital was not a place to bring up a family. He had married a girl from Wellsville on Aug. 31, 1935.

During his stay in Washington Maughan served on the board of one of the housing cooperatives.

After returning to Logan, he mining the Mason supply company, some eight years ago he moved to Buhl and is currently operating a drive-in restaurant—Maughan's Drive-In.

Maughan is an elder in the LDS church and a member of the Kiwanis club. He has been mayor of Buhl since January of this year. His duties of a city father keep him busy in his spare time.

One project that is close to his heart is the establishment of a junior college for the area. He feels this is a must before the area can develop and grow.

Young people occupy a special spot in his mind and operating a drive-in gives him an excellent opportunity to associate with them.

Although he is fairly new in the area, he likes Magic Valley. Here he can express his belief of individual liberty and put his thoughts into action.

Maughan's formal education included work at Brigham Young university and Utah State university. For this reason the junior college is foremost in his mind.

The Maughan children include Capt. Richard P. Maughan serving with the air force in Germany; Mrs. Emily Greik, Chicago; Mrs. Kathleen Bruno, Salt Lake City and Douglas Maughan, Buhl.

Maughan believes in the growth and development of Magic Valley. He hopes only to contribute to this goal.

SUNDAY, July 26 — Born today, you are basically unimpaired, but you have a strong streak of independence and for this reason will never go against your nature or your convictions, no matter how many friends your future costs you. SILENT REMINDER of a recent attempt to take gold from Yankee fork still stands abandoned among the rocky debris it created to mark the natural surroundings of the country. The old

"Yankee Fork dredge" in its operational lifetime succeeded in making a gravel pile out of the river. The dredge began operations in 1922. (Times-News photo)

ONLY A SKELETON shell remains of the famed General Custer mill located on the north side of Custer. The mill opened in 1891 and sold and silver flowed out of Custer bound for England. The General Custer mill produced millions of dollars worth of ore. In the first year of operation some $1,100,000 worth of ore passed through the mill in 11 months of operation. (Times-News photo)

Buhl Rotary to Honor Sons and Scouts at Event

Buhl, July 25 — The Buhl Rotary club will observe its annual father-son and scout picnic at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Eastman park.

Following the picnic the group will go to Twin Falls for the Magic Valley Cowboys vs. Idaho Falls baseball game. Charles Busmann is chairman in charge of arrangements assisted by David Erb, William Wirt, Tom Smith, George Lakness and Dr. Stanley Kern.

During the club's regular luncheon meeting Thursday John M. Barker presented the program, giving highlights of an European tour this summer.

Guests were Dr. James Pence, El Cerrito, Calif.; Ben Busmann, Laguna, Calif.; Gary Waymire, Livermore, Calif.; Earl Haddad, Castleford; Les Souza, William Hart, Buhl; John Breckenridge and Ralph Olmstead, both Twin Falls.

Elwood (Nip) Gedhill, Caldwell, and Dick Smith, Rexburg, were visiting Rotarians.

of the old west—like the time the body of a gal from the red light district was found floating in the creek. He can tell of the episode of Lizzie King, her common-law husband, Richard, and Robert Hawthorne, her real husband. The graves of these three people are located on a dirt road behind the town of Bonanza, beyond the Bonanza cemetery, in a place called "Hoot Hill cemetery."

The area abounds in folklore and the McGowen museum and McGowen are part of the folklore. The trip to Custer is well worth the time and effort.

Road Project to End by Sept. 1

RICHFIELD, July 25 — The Richfield-Carey road project under construction by Peter Klewin and Sons Construction company will be completed Sept. 1, reports Robert Langston, accountant for the company.

Willis Sawyer, superintendent of the seven-mile project, left for Montpelier Friday where several company employees have been transferred.

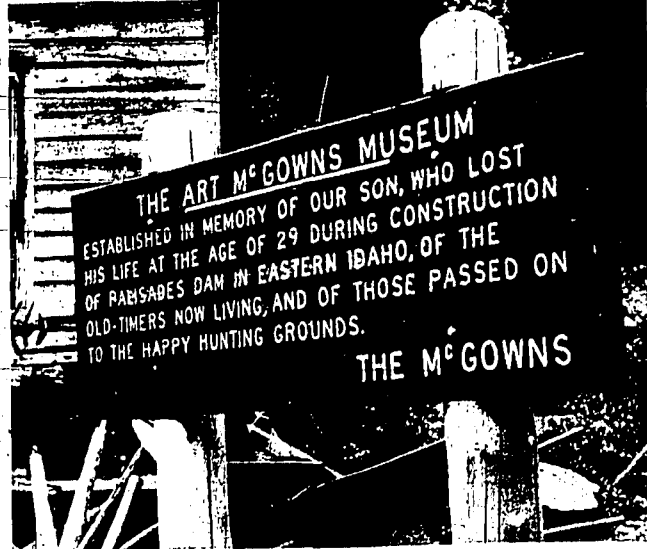

Langston says the job working day schedule for the job will be exceeded because of exceptionally bad winter conditions.

About 50 men were hired on the job with two shifts, running this summer.

Loan Approved For Irrigation

BOISE, July 25 — Farmers home administration has approved a $90,000 loan to the Dry Creek Development association, Butte county, to improve an irrigation system that serves about 6,000 acres.

San. Frank Church, D. Ida., said the funds will be used to line about 10 miles of an irrigation canal. An additional $50,000 will be provided by the agricultural stabilization and conservation program, he said.

SELF-EXPLAINING SIGN greets tourists who turn off U. S. 93 at Sunbeam dam and journey to the old ghost town of Custer. The museum is located in the old Custer school where Art McGowen attended class. Out-of-the-ordinary items are on display. (Times-News photo)

Animal Psychology Needed In Construction of Zoo

NEW YORK, July 25 — A proper modern zoo must be built with animal psychology taken into account, says a man who specializes in designing zoos.

"It can't be just a collection of barred cages, pools, pens and open runs any more," Robert Every, who heads McGowan, Every and Associates of Winnetka, Ill., said in an interview. "The modern zoo, he said, must be spacious and it must be designed to place the animals as to please people."

"If animal psychology is not taken thoroughly into account, the creatures will be torpid; they will hide back in their dens, invisible, or sleep all the time and they won't live long.

"What is worse, they will refuse to breed."

And, he said, it is vitally important to a zoo that its animals breed. "Not only is raising and selling cubs and calves an important source of revenue, it is essential that wild animals bear young in captivity if zoos are to continue to exist. Each year, more species become extinct in the wild or so nearly so that specimens can no longer be captured."

"Besides that, people who come to zoos dearly love to see the mother with cubs or calves."

Not every city needs a zoo, Every said.

Youth, 16, Makes Bid In Election

assignment in history class to spring to draw up a plan to reform legislation for the state. This set the youngsters poring over the statute books and state constitution.

The law's loophole which allowed Tagg to run as an independent was discovered by Michael Garrity, who became Tagg's campaign manager. Two youths spent two weeks doing research on the problem.

They found that a person to be 21 years old to run as a Republican or Democrat, but age was specified for independent. Young Tagg decided to run.

He and Garrity worked month, mostly weekends, collecting 1,150 signatures of adults. His nomination petitions, town clerk certified 992 of the more than the 712 required.

By running as an independent Tagg also avoids having to enter the September primary, a requirement for Republicans and Democrats.

After Tagg announced his candidacy, several other teenagers jumped on the bandwagon. They began collecting signatures. Michael Garrity, who was 31 himself when first elected to statewide office in 1960.

White feared that teenagers' candidacies would become a summertime fad which might cause political and social damage.
